

Contact: Andrew McKagan
andrew@sportsbusiness.solutions

PHOENIX, AZ -- Sports Business Solutions and company president Bob Hamer have recently announced the hiring of Jason Stein to be the inaugural Director of Recruiting for the rapidly-growing sports business consulting company.

Stein will concentrate on expanding the executive search and recruitment division of Sports Business Solutions, enabling the company to lead more initiatives in this area than ever before. He will work closely with current Sports Business Solutions' clients, both hiring managers and job seekers, to facilitate the search process.

"I'm humbled by this opportunity to lead a division and be an integral part of helping this company continue to grow. Bob Hamer is an excellent leader with an outstanding reputation across the sports business industry and I believe with his proven success in sales, training and consulting, and my experience in executive search and recruitment, together we will take SBS to a new level. I'm very excited to get started," says Stein.

Stein will work to expand the Sports Business Solutions' enhanced recruitment services division through the development of key relationships with new clients across sports business, including professional teams, collegiate athletic administrations, coaches and more. He will also identify new business opportunities and work to further develop Sports Business Solutions' full service repertoire.

As a result of this hire, Hamer will be free to focus more on the sales training and consulting division, his primary area of expertise as Stein takes over and manages the executive search and recruitment division. "Jason's ability to recruit is quite remarkable," says Hamer. "I hired him because he's extremely proven as a recruiter and wants to take that experience and build the most successful sports industry recruiting business around. He's ambitious, and extremely hard working. He's the perfect fit to lead this charge."

Stein brings nearly six years of experience in recruitment and business development to SBS. Primarily serving the Government Services industry, he quickly developed as a recruiter with Federal Consulting Resources (FCR), earning National Pacesetter Awards and ranking in the Top 20% of all Search Consultants within the MRI franchising network his first two full years in the industry. As his previous company moved out the MRI Network, Stein proceeded to develop into the Account Executive role where he was responsible for developing over 20 new key clients and generating over one million dollars in personal billings to the Montgomery County, Maryland based company.

Stein is from Olney, Maryland, and graduated from the University of Maryland.

###

For more information about the company, please visit <http://www.sportsbusiness.solutions/> or contact andrew@sportsbusiness.solutions with any questions.